FairValue Corporate & Public Affairs strengthens its expertise in Italy, United States and Middle East by appointing Maria Teresa NAPOLITANO as Senior Fellow and reinforces its commitment to client cases in complex environments.

Maria Teresa NAPOLITANO is an internationally renowned Italian lawyer specializing in corporate law, with a particular focus on infrastructure, transportation, energy, and competition law. She is now a Senior Fellow in charge of Middle East and US relations at FairValue Corporate & Public Affairs.

As the issue of post-war reconstruction in Ukraine becomes more acute, Western companies will be called upon to play a key role. In this context, Poland, where FairValue Corporate & Public Affairs has been established since 2020, has very quickly become the pillar of the United States' strategy in Europe and in the war. The arrival of Maria Teresa NAPOLITANO will allow the firm to cross the Polish and American networks, in order to support companies in their business expansion strategies in Central and Eastern Europe.

In addition, FairValue Corporate & Public Affairs continues to expand its international network and strengthen its expertise in complex environments. Indeed, the crises that have succeeded one another since 2019, lead European and Western companies to diversify their international strategies by exploring alternative markets, especially in Africa and the Middle East, which are experiencing an acceleration of their economies and opening new business opportunities.

About FairValue Corporate & Public Affairs :

Founded in 2005 by Anne MAZOYER-JANKOWSKA, FairValue Corporate & Public Affairs is a global strategy firm specialized in public and political affairs, corporate communication and crisis management in complex environments.

Based in Paris, Brussels, Rome, London and Warsaw, the firm also covers the Maghreb, in particular Morocco, as well as West Africa. The firm offers tailor-made support at the national, European and international levels, and more recently in Ukraine thanks to its active involvement in several Polish organizations for economic cooperation with the country.

The firm's geo-economic commitment also intends to support the political and diplomatic actions implemented by national and European public authorities.
